

1955 Promises To Set Another Construction Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Monday forecast a new record breaking construction year in 1955 with an increase in total construction outlays of about 7 per cent to 39 1/2 billion dollars.

The Departments of Commerce and Labor, which made the 1955 forecast, had previously predicted on the basis of the first nine months of this year, that construction in 1954 would set a new high of 37 billion dollars, compared to 35 1/2 billion in 1953.

Total construction outlays were 12 billion dollars in 1946, the first postwar year, and have risen steadily each year since.

The government forecast for 1955 was based "on the assumption that the general level of economic activity will remain relatively stable, and disposable income (income after taxes) of consumers will continue at a record rate."

Additionally, the forecast said, "there should be sufficient capital funds available to finance a very large volume of construction at comparatively favorable rates, and it is assumed that construction costs will remain relatively stable."

Both private and public construction will rise to new highs next year, according to the outlook given in the joint forecast, with private spending for new building estimated to rise nearly 27 1/2 billion dollars, a 7 per cent increase over the 25 1/2 billion expected for this year.

It was predicted that public (governmental) spending for construction next year would increase by about 5 per cent to approximately 12 billion dollars, compared with 11 1/2 billion for this year.

The joint forecast said that federal outlays for construction would continue to decline next year but that the reduction would be much smaller than this year.

The Commerce-Labor forecast said it was expected state and local projects would exceed 9 billion dollars in 1955, compared with 8 billion expected for this year.

Highway construction will probably rise by about 18 per cent next year to approximately 4 1/2 billion dollars, it was said. Public school building was forecast for next year at nearly 2 1/2 billion dollars, or 16 per cent higher than this year.

The joint report made these other estimates:

Private construction will get its biggest boost next year from an increase in non-farm residential building to about 15 billion dollars, a 15 per cent increase.

Non-residential building will increase by approximately 4 per cent next year, to nearly 6 1/2 billion dollars with practically every category showing an increase except outlays for industrial plants, where it was predicted that there would be an 8 per cent decline.

Farm construction will also fall off next year by about 7 per cent, to a total of $1,450,000,000 compared with $1,560,000,000 expected for this year.

Lying behind the predicted big boost in non-farm residential building predicted for next year, the government report said, will be: "A continued strong demand for new homes, ready availability of mortgage money, and the easier credit terms provided by the 1954 housing legislation."

The two departments said total public and private residential building next year would probably reach 1,300,000 housing units. That would be approximately 100,000 more than anticipated for this year and would be second only to residential starts of 1,396,000 in 1950.

Atoms Offered World Enough For One A-Bomb Saved For Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States dramatically informed the U. N. Monday it has set aside 220 pounds of fissionable materials to activate atomic reactors for peaceful purposes throughout the world.

It was the first time in the atomic age that this country has offered to ship so much atomic materials, estimated to be enough for one atomic bomb, outside its borders on a mission of peace.

Closing his second big speech to the U. N. political committee on President Eisenhower's plan for using atoms for peace, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said to the suddenly-alert delegates:

"There is one final matter which I would like to lay before you, and I hope it will once and for all remove from the minds of all any confusion as to how specific the United States 'atoms for peace' proposition is, whether or not the scope of our proposal has been narrowed."

220 Pounds "I am authorized by the President of the United States to say that the Atomic Energy Commission has allocated 100 kilograms (220 pounds) of fissionable material to serve as fuel in the experimental reactors to which the secretary of state and I have previously referred. This amount of fissionable material is enough to activate a considerable number of these reactors throughout the world."

This was the answer of the chief American delegate to complaints by Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky that Lodge had "narrowed down" the program put before the U. N. Assembly last year by President Eisenhower and that the U. S. is "delaying" the matter.

This was also Lodge's answer to a proposal by Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine delegate and former president of the U. N. assembly, that the United States and other atomic powers chip in 220 pounds of atomic materials — enough, Romulo said, to make one bomb — to an atomic reactor to be set up under the U. N.

On Nov. 5, Lodge told the political committee that the United States is ready to conclude bilateral agreements with other countries to furnish fissionable material for reactors for peace. His announcement Monday was another step in that program.

No Veto In his speech today Lodge made it clear to the Soviet Union that the West will not accept any veto on operations of a proposed international atomic agency supervising the atoms-for-peace program.

He also told Vishinsky — his chief critic so far — and the committee that small countries will have a voice in the governing board of the agency, that the program is open to any country, and that the United States and its atomic allies do not intend to confront any country with an accomplished fact.

This statement obviously was an assurance to some countries such as India which had feared that they were being asked to rubber-stamp a decision by the seven atomic powers sponsoring a resolution before the committee. The seven are the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Australia, Belgium and South Africa.

Trial Witness Walks Away From Hospital

Authorities early Tuesday were still searching for Clarence B. Layman, 47, a witness at the recent trial of prison inmate Charles McClelland, who walked away from the State Hospital grounds.

Layman was serving two concurrent four-year terms for forgery at the time of his transfer for "safe-keeping."

Dr. F. L. Spradling, hospital superintendent, said that Layman had been at the hospital in 1943 and had walked away several times. He was on "ground parole" in this instance and was working in the greenhouse, Dr. Spradling said.

Warden Herbert Hann of the State Penitentiary said Monday that it was "not exactly normal" to allow Penitentiary transfers such freedom.

"What they do over there, though, is their business," he added.

Wilber Rotary Members Cop Three Prizes

Wilber Rotarians walked away with three out of four trophy awards Monday night at the annual banquet of the 177th Rotary District.

The awards, presented by Past District Governor Don L. Harding, were to the following:

Ed Houser of Wilber — The 100 per cent attendance award, for 26 years' perfect attendance at weekly meetings.

The Wilber club received two trophies—one for approaching the 100 per cent mark in the number of meetings for the past year, and one for having the highest percentage of members in attendance during the year.

Norfolk received the award for having the greatest number present from the greatest distance.

In his address, Dr. Robert Patterson, Dean of the College of Business Administration at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion, S. D., said:

"In spite of all the things there are to worry about, never go to sleep at night without first offering a prayer of thanksgiving that you live in America."

Residents Failed To Act—Four-Foot Winthrop Walk To Be Put In After All

Actor Lionel Barrymore Dies At 76

Vet Stage, Screen Star Dead After Long Illness

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lionel Barrymore died Monday night.

The eldest member of America's "royal family" of the stage, which included Ethel and the late John Barrymore, succumbed to a complication of ailments, including arthritis. He had been crippled and confined to a wheel chair during the later years of his life. He was 76.

He had been in a coma for almost 24 hours when he died at Valley Hospital in nearby Van Nuys.

Dr. John Paul Ewing, his physician, said the immediate cause of death was heart congestion.

Versatile Ethel Barrymore, a year younger than Lionel, survives him. John died in 1942.

Lionel was one of the most versatile of Hollywood's film greats. In addition to being, in his prime, a top-ranking actor, he branched out with equal facility to directing and later to etching and painting, and to music. These later talents he developed after the crippling effects of arthritis had sidelined him from all but a few movie roles.

He may have been down many times, but he never was out. His voice as Dr. Gillespie was known across the land in the Dr. Kildare radio series, and his renditions at the holiday season of Dickens' crusty Scrooge were no less famous.

Debut at 5 Son of the celebrated theatrical team of Maurice and Georgia Drew Barrymore, Lionel was born in Philadelphia. Brother of the great John and of the famous Ethel, the shaggy-browed veteran made his stage debut at the age of five.

He was educated in New York and by a private tutor, and attended Seton Hall, at Orange, N. J., where he came to know Thomas A. Edison. As a youth he appeared on the stage with his grandmother, Louisa Drew, but quit to study art in Paris. Returning, he was an illustrator for a year, then joined his brother, John, in "Peter Ibbotson."

There never was any question of his forte. He became a star with his performance in "The Copperhead" Next in "The Claw" he appeared with Irene Fenwick. They were together in "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," and were married in 1923. Their romance until her death in 1935 was one of ideal devotion and happiness.

Barrymore won an Academy Award for his performance in "A Free Soul," with Norma Shearer, in 1931.

The Council had agreed to drop its plans for the regulation walk if the curb walk were constructed immediately. Action on the curb walk, however, was never taken.

The regulation walk as now ordered will destroy a line of trees and some shrubbery, the big point of controversy. Cost of the regulation walk construction will be assessed against abutting property owners.

Mayor Clark Jeary and Councilman Rees Wilkinson voted against the order for construction of the regulation walk.

'Fine Opportunity' Here To Hike Housing Level

By BILL DOBLER Star Staff Writer Lincoln has a "fine opportunity" not afforded big eastern cities to raise its minimum housing standards, according to Ralph Johnson, U. S. Public Health Service.

Johnson's remarks were made to members of the City Council and others who attended the meeting arranged by the City-County Health Department and the City Planning Commission's subcommittee on housing.

The subcommittee has concluded its study and will shortly submit to its parent body a proposed minimum standards housing ordinance for Lincoln. This ordinance is expected to be before the Council in about 30 days.

Johnson said, "has been the missing link in most housing programs to date."

Lincoln's opportunity to improve its housing, he said, stems from the fact that there is relatively little sub-standard housing here while such dwellings may account for up to 40 per cent of the living units in big eastern cities.

"We are interested in this, Johnson said, "simply because bad housing means illness and poor health. Good housing means better health for the nation."

Cities, Johnson, should not make the mistake of adopting too loose a set of standards. If the standards fixed are not high enough, he said, it would mean houses would have to become slums before anything could be done about them.

On the other hand, he said, the standards should be fair, realistic and practical.

Unwise And Unfair It is unwise, he said, to attempt to get high standards by degrees. This is unfair to property owners,

Sen. Case Now Opposes Censure On One Charge

Dakota Republican Says It Is Evident Army Officials 'Let Peress Slip Out Of Grasp'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hotly debated Irving Peress case churned up a couple of upheavals in the McCarthy censure row Monday—followed by a Democratic statement that Sen. McCarthy ought to be thrown out of the Senate.

The expulsion suggestion was made by Sen. Ervin (D-NC), who accused McCarthy of making "foul and fantastic charges" against the committee that recommended he be censured. But Ervin said he would not formally move that McCarthy be ousted.

Ervin spoke out on the Senate floor after Sen. Case (R-SD), a fellow member of the six-man committee that recommended censure of the Wisconsin Republican, announced he will switch sides and vote against rebuking McCarthy on one of two pending charges.

Case said new evidence supplied by Secretary of the Army Stevens convinces him McCarthy should not be censured for alleged abusive treatment of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when Zwicker testified on the Army's handling of the Peress case.

Cites New Evidence The South Dakota senator said it is now evident that high Army officials "let Peress slip out of their grasp," and gave him an honorable discharge instead of a court-martial, even after a court-martial demand from McCarthy was delivered to the "responsible Army staff."

In the wake of Case's announcement, Ervin took the floor and said he came to the Senate opposed to expelling McCarthy, or stripping him of his committee chairmanships, but he declared: "I'm willing to admit I have changed my mind in both particulars."

Ervin, who succeeded the late Sen. Hoey (D-NC) last June, added, however, he does not intend to propose expulsion of McCarthy during the present debate which is on a recommendation by Ervin, Case and four other senators that McCarthy be censured on two counts of unbecoming and contemptuous conduct.

The chairman of the censure committee, Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), sought meanwhile to pull the rug from under McCarthy's "who promoted Peress?" campaign. Watkins said McCarthy himself can readily dig out the answer on the basis of information already supplied by the Army.

Denying this, McCarthy declared the Pentagon is still shielding "the secret master" who promoted Peress — a New York dentist who had refused to say whether he was a Communist — and then rushed through the discharge which made a court-martial impossible.

McCarthy and Watkins clashed often and heatedly at a hearing called by McCarthy, who still heads the Senate Investigations subcommittee, just before debate on the censure resolution resumed on the Senate floor.

Watkins Only Witness Watkins, appearing as the sole witness, told McCarthy it may well be nobody is "criminally" guilty in the Army's handling of Peress. Sternly, McCarthy replied any senator who holds that view is "derelict in his duty."

"I don't believe you can ever be satisfied," Watkins shot back, "unless you can find some one who could be shot or hung."

In the floor debate Ervin repeated a charge he made on a television program Sunday — that McCarthy showed either "mental incapacity" or "moral incapacity" when he charged the Watkins committee members acted as "unwitting handmaidens of the Communist party."

Ervin declared McCarthy holds "libel and slander" like a sword over the heads of all senators who disagree with him. And, taking sharp issue with Case's new stand, Ervin said McCarthy's cross-examination of Zwicker was nothing but "badgering and browbeating."

Jenner Praises McCarthy Ervin took the floor after one of McCarthy's supporters, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), declared the Watkins committee in calling for censure of McCarthy ignored the most important evidence of all — that McCarthy was, as Jenner put it, fighting a Communist conspiracy.

To recommend censure of McCarthy, Jenner declared, was like "returning an indictment against a private citizen for murder while ignoring that a goon squad has been trying nightly to murder him, his wife and his children."

'Not In Over-All Plan' One-Way Light System Bids For 16th, 17th OKd

Bids have been approved by the City Council for the purchase of cable and signals for installation of the one-way street system on 16th and 17th from Holdrege to Enclid.

The contract on cable was awarded Tynes Electric Co. for $1,668. The signal system contract goes to Schneider Electric and Equipment Co. for $2,274.50.

Both Mayor Clark Jeary and Safety Director Emmett Jungo emphasized that 16th and 17th have nothing to do with the overall downtown one-way street system proposed by the Police Department traffic division. It would be wrong, Jungo said, to come in January,

Retaliation Attacks Are Assured

Red China-Nationalist Vest Pocket War Looms

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH, Formosa (Tuesday) — An intensified vest pocket war today seemed likely as the Nationalists pledged the "severest blows possible" for the sinking of a destroyer escort by Red torpedo boats.

The pledge was made in the Defense Ministry's communiqué. It confirmed that 28 of the 180 officers and men of the 1,800-ton Taiping perished Sunday in the engagement off the Tachen Islands, 215 miles north of Formosa.

Nationalist warplanes flew cover while rescue ships picked up survivors, but no Chinese Communist planes tried to interfere. Of those rescued, 28 were wounded, nine seriously.

High level Nationalist officials conferred for hours yesterday and there were press reports that "momentous decisions" had been made. There was speculation that the Nationalists would launch a massive retaliation attack.

Both the press and unofficial quarters were clamoring for counter blows at the Communists. The official Chung Hua Daily News said Russia had given Red China more than 40 torpedo boats and it was assumed some of these had been transferred to the Chu Shan Islands, 100 miles north of the Tachen Islands.

The Nationalists insist the Communists are building up forces in the Chu Shans for an attack on the Tachens.

Mintun Still Held

additional details" which she related Sunday night.

Scheele said both McNeill have admitted that Mintun and Mrs. Hovland "had argued during the evening about another woman."

Record Listed
Meanwhile, Davenport (Ia.) police reported their files show Mintun has a long police record dating back to 1938 when he was committed to the boy's reformatory at Eldora for chicken theft.

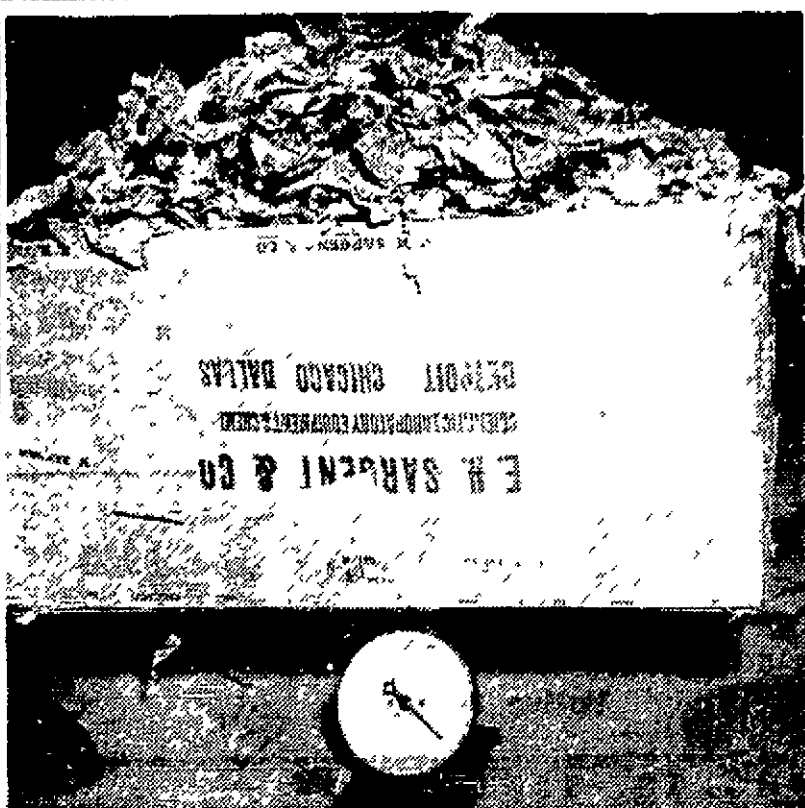

His record also disclosed according to Iowa sources, that he served a sentence for auto larceny at the Iowa State Prison at Ft. Madison, and that during his term escaped, then gave himself up, and was recommended to the penitentiary.

Mintun, a painter by trade, came to Lincoln last August and was employed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Mrs. Mintun Here
Mrs. Mintun, who had been residing with his parents in Davenport, has come to Lincoln to be with her husband since the incident.

Mintun told Wagener that he had known Mrs. Hovland for "about six weeks." Mrs. Hovland was employed as a waitress at a Lincoln restaurant and was "more or less separated" from her husband, Dempster Hovland of Beloit, Wis.

Wagener said it has not been determined how long Mrs. Hovland had been in Lincoln, but her father and brother had not heard from her since last May or June.

There's Gold In Them Thar Leaves

Maybe you didn't know it, but you are actually burning several dollars worth of plant food when you rake and set fire to the leaves in your yard. There are seven pounds of leaves in the box pictured above. And after four months in a compost pile there will be 14 pounds of compost manure worth more than the average barnyard manure. To make a compost pile, all you have to do is rake the leaves up and throw them inside of an enclosure so they won't blow away. Dr. Mark Weldon, Nebraska University extension agronomist, estimates that the leaves on an average size city lot weigh 500 to 1,000 pounds and contain plant food worth $3 to $6. City officials say the leaves that the city collects go primarily to nurseries and greenhouses, some to residences and the remainder to the city dump. (U of N Photo.)

News Around The Globe

Asked For Help

CLEVELAND (AP)—A suburban police chief, a big, quiet, ham-fisted man, admitted Monday he was at sea when confronted with the murder of Marilyn Sheppard. He had to ask city detectives for help.

The defense tried to get across to the jury that the Bay Village chief bungled the investigation, himself, and was a willing accomplice of the Cleveland detectives when they fixed on Sheppard as the guilty man.

Earlier, a rumor that the osteopath was sterile and killed his wife over her second pregnancy was put on the record. Such gossip arose last summer during the murder investigation.

4 On Lost Plane

DENVER (INS)—The 44th Air Rescue Command at Lowry Air Base in Denver said Monday night that four persons were aboard a small private plane which is believed down somewhere in the desolate La Veta Pass area.

The plane, a Beechcraft Bonanza, was scheduled to arrive in Denver Saturday night from Durango, Colo., in the south.

WIRL Radio's TV Application Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Communications Commission examiner Monday recommended WIRL Television Co., associated with radio station WIRL at Peoria, Ill., be authorized to operate a Channel 8 TV station in Peoria.

Examiner Elizabeth C. Smith proposed that a competing application for the station by WMBD Inc., which operates Peoria radio stations WMBD and WMBD-FM, be denied.

The examiner said the two applicants were evenly matched in many respects. Her choice of WIRL Television, she said, "would better serve the commission's well-established and widely-recognized policy of diversification of the control of the media of mass communications."

She said in her report that WIRL television is owned by the owners and employees of radio station WIRL, which is their only broadcasting property.

Miss Smith said the owners of WMBD, Charles C. Caley of Peoria and John E. Fetzer of Kalamazoo, Mich., also had interests in stations WJZ, Decatur, Ill.; WJEF and WJEF-TV, Grand Rapids, Mich.; WKZO and WKZO-TV, Kalamazoo; and KOLN and KOLN-TV, Lincoln, Neb.

WIRL television is headed by Timothy W. Swain, who also heads radio station WIRL.

Examiner Smith said the competing Peoria radio stations had rendered meritorious service to the community, but that the WIRL interests merited a preference on the basis of integration of ownership and management in the proposed TV station.

She also said Paul C. Brines, WIRL television stockholder and executive vice president who would be general manager of the TV station, has had considerable experience in TV, having previously been assistant general manager of WCN-TV in Chicago.

In change there is opportunity

Today there are 13 million people aged 65 or over—10 million more than in 1900!

Your chances of retiring have never been brighter!

There's a good chance that you will be able to retire without being dependent on anybody! Here are three reasons:

1. Millions of families now have bigger paychecks. This is giving them the opportunity to build an adequate retirement program.
2. Today more than three times as many employees as in 1940 are participating in company retirement plans.
3. Millions of Americans can now build on their Social Security to help provide them with the retirement income they will need.

And there's been a big change, too, in people's attitudes toward retirement. They are giving up the idea of retiring from their present way of life. Instead, they are planning to retire to a new way of life.

To provide retirement income, more and more people are using life insurance and annuities. This is a significant trend. It is one reason why more than half of all life insurance benefits are now paid to the policyholders themselves!

In your parents' day, most people thought of life insurance only as a way to guarantee a financial backlog for the family if the father died . . . or as a sure means of building a cash reserve.

These are still its principal uses. But today's families are also turning to other important uses of life insurance. For instance—to cover the mortgage or to help pay for the children's education.

Now owned by more than 90 million men, women and children, life insurance is America's most popular form of thrift.

Knowland Calls For Probe Of U.S. Foreign Policy

...Red 'Trojan Horse' Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) said Monday Russia is pushing the idea of "peaceful co-existence" as a Trojan horse to gain time for an "atomic stalemate" and the nibbling away of more nations.

In a Senate speech, Knowland said the Soviet target date probably is between 1957 and 1960 and:

"Coexistence and atomic stalemate will result in an ultimate Communist victory."

The Senate GOP chief called for congressional committees to summon State and Defense department officials to inquire fully into present foreign and defense policy and determine "whether this clear and present danger which appears to me to exist is such that a basic change in the direction of our policy is warranted."

"Weaker"

The idea was promptly endorsed by Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

"I'm afraid today that we are weaker than we should be," Johnson said.

In the ensuing debate, some Democrats on the Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees argued Knowland was making a good case against the Eisenhower administration's cuts in the defense budget.

Knowland did not concede their point that the armed forces had been weakened, but he agreed with the Democrats that this country must be able to negotiate with the Russians "from a position of strength."

The speech seemed to put Knowland at least partly at odds with President Eisenhower on policy toward the Soviet Union.

Iowa Court Decision On Rice Case Upheld

Damage Suit Was Filed By Soldier's Wife

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court divided 4-4 Monday on whether a cemetery may be sued for damages for refusing burial to an American Indian killed in Army service in Korea.

The tie vote upheld a decision of the Iowa Supreme court that Mrs. Evelyn Rice, white widow of Sgt. John Rice, had no right to sue the Sioux City Memorial Park Cemetery for $180,000.

After graveside services, the cemetery notified Mrs. Rice that her husband's body would not be lowered into the grave. Burial was refused on the ground the widow had signed a contract which restricted use of the cemetery to caucasians.

Truman Entered Case

The case attracted widespread attention and former President Truman invited the widow to send the body to Arlington National Cemetery, to lie with many of the nation's heroes. Full military honors accompanied the Arlington burial of Sgt. Rice.

The tie vote in the Supreme Court was made possible by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson, which reduced the court's membership from 9 to 8. It was not announced how the eight justices voted individually.

Mrs. Rice has 25 days in which to ask for reconsideration. It is conceivable that by that time the Senate may have confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of John Marshall Harlan of New York to fill the court vacancy.

Rehearing Request Probable

At Winnebago, Neb., the attorney for Mrs. Rice, Neil McLuhan, said he "very probably" would ask the Supreme Court for a rehearing in hopes a full nine-member court might be available to make a new finding.

Mrs. Rice, who lives on an Indian reservation farm near Winnebago, could not be reached for comment. McLuhan said, however, that she was "keenly disappointed" when she lost her case in the Iowa Supreme Court.

"We had hoped," he said, "in view of the anti-segregation decision, that the Supreme Court of the United States might take a different view."

Services Held For Ex-County Sheriff

MADISON, Neb. — Funeral services for Aaron S. Henry Sr., 68, former Madison County sheriff, were held here.

Mr. Henry died following an illness which had caused his retirement as sheriff in 1950. He was county sheriff for 17 years.

A Cuming County native, he farmed in Stanton County from 1905 to 1909, ran a dray business at Leigh from 1909 to 1913 and was a farm implement dealer at Madison from 1923 to 1932.

Mr. Henry had served on the Madison City Council and had been a member of the Commercial Club, Rotary Club and Norfolk Elks Lodge.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Earl of Norfolk and Aaron S. Jr.; and two grandchildren.

Co-Editors Check On Predecessors

Talking over the world travels of their predecessors are co-editors of The Midland, student newspaper at Midland College.

Four Former Midland Editors Record Extensive Travel Pace

LINCOLN STAR SPECIAL
FREMONT, Neb.—Phyllis Madsen and Stanley Saxe, co-editors of The Midland, student newspaper at Midland College, are wondering just what they will have to do to keep up with the world travel pace of former Midland editors.

The past four campus journalists who served as editors of the student newspapers are now living in four different countries on two continents. And that's quite a record, even for this traveling age, the editors say.

Last year's editor, Philip Hefner, Denver, 1954 graduate, is now in Germany. Gerald Bartels, 1953 graduate of Fremont and editor the year before, is now in Japan.

George Meinhold, editor before Bartels and a 1952 graduate of Hollis, N.Y., is in Korea. Eric Bye, 1951 graduate and the editor before Meinhold, is in his native Norway.

Hefner is a student at the University of Tuebingen in Germany. He is attending on a Fulbright Award. Bartels is serving in the Army and is stationed at Camp Zama, Japan. He lives there with his wife, the former Doris Lang, Fremont, a former associate editor of The Midland.

Meinhold is stationed with the Army in Taegu, Korea, and Rye is working for the Associated Press in Oslo, Norway.

But Madsen and Saxe don't plan to imitate the wanderlust thirsts of their predecessors for neither graduates this spring. Saxe is a junior of Fremont and Miss Madsen a sophomore of Davey, Neb.

Allied Workers Return To Jobs

OMAHA (AP)—Employees of the Omaha plant of the nitrogen division of the Allied Chemical and Dye Corp. began returning to work Monday following agreement on a new contract.

The employees, members of the Omaha Metal Trades Council, AFL, walked out Oct. 30 when attempts to negotiate a new contract failed. About 280 were involved in the strike.

A joint statement issued by the union and management said a two-year contract calls for a 4% cents per hour wage increase each year, a seniority plan acceptable to both parties and other "mutually-agreeable contract clauses."

Expansion Of Conservation Work Planned

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraska and Western Iowa farm equipment dealers plan to increase their soil conservation activities.

They were making expanded plans here Monday as the 64th annual convention of the Midwest Retail Farm Equipment Assn. opened.

"We know the average farmer who practices soil conservation always shows a bigger profit," said LeRoy F. Barry, managing director. This in turn means a better market for the equipment dealer.

The association already is working with county soil conservation supervisors and county agents in seven counties.

Barry said the association plans to increase its efforts in these counties and enter new counties where conservation officials are agreeable.

The dealers program consists of increasing promotion of existing conservation goals.

About 1,500 are expected for the three-day convention.

"7 top fashion designers find Chrysler Corporation's 1955 cars a stimulating new concept of good design."

At a special advance showing in New York, the celebrated fashion designers, above, saw a line of motor cars that was bright and alive and completely new. And what they saw, you can see soon!

They saw Chrysler Corporation's new 1955 cars—Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler, Imperial—the cars with the brilliant all-new concept of style we call THE FORWARD LOOK.

These experts found THE FORWARD LOOK a design that matches the moods, needs and attitudes of today's modern-minded motor car owners... and does it in a fresh and imaginative way.

They admired the all-new contemporary design, the long, low lines that America's motorists have been eager for. They were struck by the look of motion these cars give even when they are standing still.

The beauty and astonishing visibility offered by the New-Horizon windshields delighted them—for these are the only fully swept-back, fully wrapped-around windshields on any American cars today.

They were attracted to the rich fabrics and the compelling new colors. They found wonderful convenience in the unique new position of the PowerFlite Range Selector.

THE FORWARD LOOK that intrigued these famous designers will no doubt intrigue you, too. We believe you will find in these cars just what you've wanted, just what you've asked for and hoped for in your next motor car. In a few days, you will be able to see THE FORWARD LOOK. Don't miss it!

Johnsons Lead Holdrege Swedish Names

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—If you ask for a name ending in "son," nearly one-fourth of the more than 2,000 listings in the phone directory are names of Johnsons, Andersons, Petersons and on through the alphabet of good Swedish surnames ending with the same final syllable.

To these can be added columns and pages of other Scandinavian appellations. For Holdrege is a "Swede" town and the 16 pages of listings in the new telephone book prove the point.

All Initials Necessary
The Johnsons are away out front with 90 listings. The situation can get pretty complicated when it comes to Carl Johnsons and it's well for the caller to know the middle initial.

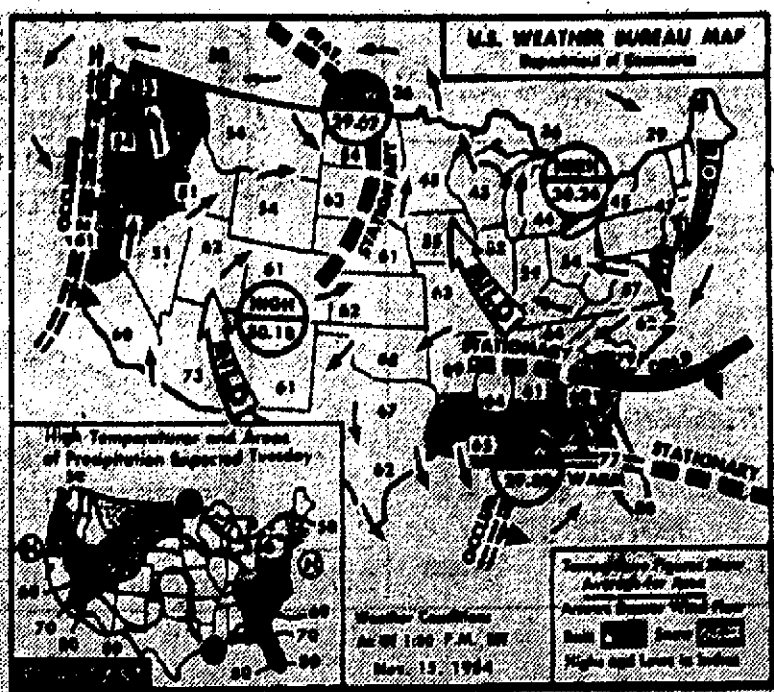

There's Carl J. Johnson, Carl J. E. Johnson, Carl W. Johnson, C. Oscar Johnson, C. W. Johnson and so on down the line.

Then there are Johnsons who depend upon their geographical location to help unfold the complex situation of the same names but not the same people.

John A. Johnson lists himself as (south) to prevent confusion while Laurence E. Johnson uses (northwest) after his name to aid the puzzled caller. The "west" direction is depended on by Leslie C. Johnson to make the phone ring right.

Andersons Second
Among the dozens of Swedish names Anderson holds down second place with 55 listings. One of them uses three initials just to make sure that he's on the right end of a phone call.

The Petersons rank third and the Nelsons fourth. From there on it's a tight battle between the Carlsons, Ericksons, Olsons, Swansons and Hansons.

Mild And Clear To Continue

Occasional rain is forecast Tuesday in southern part of middle Atlantic states, the Carolinas and eastern Tennessee valley. Showers are expected in Florida, in parts of the Dakotas, the Great Basin, and along the Pacific coast from northern California to Oregon and also in southern California. North and central Rockies may have snow flurries. Temperatures will moderate in Lakes region and Ohio valley, with lower temperatures in northern Rockies and Western Dakotas. (AP Wire-photo Map.)

Ike Asks Senate To Ratify 9-Power Agreement On Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Monday called on the Senate to ratify the treaty binding a sovereign Germany closer to Western defense as a boon to "peace and freedom in the world as a whole."

The President sent to Capitol Hill, for action by the Senate next January, a stack of agreements resulting from the nine-power conference and the North Atlantic Treaty session in London and Paris this fall. He asked the Senate to study them carefully and ratify them at the regular session.

His letter of transmittal appeared aimed not only at quieting any qualms the Senate might have about the pace but also to do away with misgivings voiced abroad by Germany, France, and even Russia.

To the Germans, Eisenhower seemed to be saying the agreement would guarantee their freedom and equality. To the French, he pledged tight reins on German reararmament. To the Russians, jockeying to upset this move by proposing further talks, Eisenhower said they need fear no attack from such a purely defensive arrangement.

The very great importance of these agreements to the security of the United States and to the cause of peace and freedom in the world as a whole," Eisenhower said.

His letter described the agreements as the fruit of years-long endeavor among the Western Allies to bring Germany within their defense alliance.

These efforts, he said, had to be aimed at a method "which will insure freedom and equality for the people of Germany and at the same time will avoid the danger of a revival of German militarism."

which contends NATO is a threat to its borders. The Russians, still battling against German integration with the West, proposed over the weekend that a 25-power conference be held Nov. 29.

The Soviets proposed last Oct. 23 a Big Four conference.

Both suggestions, informally brushed off by Western diplomats as dodges to block German independence and integration with the West, are being formally considered by U. S.-British-French committee working at London and Paris on a joint reply.

State Department spokesmen declined Monday to speculate on whether one Western reply would do for both Russian bids. Dulles is expected to shed some light on this subject at his regular news conference Tuesday.

Eisenhower's estimate of the effect of the proposed German agreements was this:

"The agreements endanger no nation."

"On the contrary, they represent one of history's first great practical experiments in the international control of armaments. Moreover, their fundamental significance goes far beyond the combining of strength to deter aggression. Ultimately, we hope that they will produce a new understanding among the free peoples of Europe and a new spirit of friendship which will inspire greater cooperation in many fields of human activity."

Third Of Pupils In Classes 'Alone'

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer
F. B. Decker, state superintendent of public instruction, Monday told the Associated Women of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation that one third of all Nebraska's rural school children are sitting in classes all by themselves throughout their eight years of elementary schooling.
Decker, who appeared on a panel discussing educational improvement and the state's re-districting program, asserted:
"We ought to get out of the business of educating hermits."
"Please, understand," he added, "I don't mean that every rural district ought to dissolve though I can cite instances of two rural schools only two miles apart giving eight years of education to three or four or five students. I am saying that there are many instances when two or three or four districts could unite greatly to the interests of the children and for greater economy."
Support Given
Decker received support from Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent of the Lincoln schools and panel association in the fundamental three R's but charged also with preparing young people to live in the modern society we have and wish.
"We need more of group education with its training in how to get along with others and how to express ourselves among them," he said. "And we need sufficient groups to justify all of the educational service which cannot be conveyed to student bodies of a half dozen or so."

But Mrs. David Edgren, Holdrege, panel spokesman for rural parents objected.
"I am against attempts to bolster some obsolete trade center by making all of the nearby rural children go to school there," she said.
"There are instances where children spend three hours a day on a school bus and seven in the class rooms. It adds up to a 55 hour week. If they were unionized they would strike against it."

that," Mrs. Edgren continued. "I believe in home rule in education. Creating county boards of education is in the trend of totalitarianism. A reasonable re-districting is all right."
But State Superintendent Decker countered, "There are 6,000 school districts in Nebraska and less than 10 per cent of all the school children have parents living within the district holding a voice in the operation of the school where they attend. Contract education for it. I believe that a reasonable re-districting program in the rural elementary schools would bring greater local control."

Buffalo Youth Wins Talk Meet

Charles Jenkins, 18-year-old Buffalo County youth, won the state talk meet contest sponsored by the Associated Women of the Nebraska Farm Bureau.
Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jenkins of St. Michael, won the final competition Monday night. A freshman at Kearney State Teachers College, he will compete in the national contest in New York City.
First place in the talent fund went to Gary Bransch of Bennington. A graduate of Elkhorn High School, he is now employed at Ralston. Second place winner was Virginia Reeves of Central City, a junior at the University of Nebraska.

Both talent winners were pianists. They are also eligible to attend the national convention.
"There can be unity in rural areas without uniformity," Brig. John Seddon, Salvation Army secretary from Chicago, told the group.
He told them that rural areas need more leaders who understand their own problems.
"The same people that took the world apart will have to put it together," he said. "We can't sit around and wait for God to do it."
The brigadier cited Abraham Lincoln as a man who was willing to have God put him together. He told the audience that Secretary of Agriculture Benson is "a marvelous, sincere, Christian gentleman."

Three University of Nebraska law students will leave Lincoln Tuesday for St. Louis, where the annual regional Moot Court competition opens Wednesday.
The Nebraska University team will attempt to argue its way to the national competition in New York City Dec. 15-17-18, won last year by the University's team of Eleanor Knoll of Omaha, Ron Hunter of Lincoln, and William Grant of Columbus.
This year's team, selected by the Law faculty, consists of Robert E. Johnson Jr., of Omaha, Alfred W. Blessing of Ord, and Allan Garfinkle of Leavenworth, Kan.
The Nebraska team won a bye in the first round of the regional contest and in the second round Thursday will meet Washington University's team.
The question this year concerns the power of a state court to enjoin peaceful picketing.
Other schools competing in the St. Louis competition are: Universities of Missouri, Kansas City, Lincoln of Missouri, Creighton, South Dakota, Kansas, Washburn, Kentucky, Louisville, and St. Louis. Accompanying the Nebraska team is Allan Axelrod, associate professor of law.
The money was taken from the cash register.
Billfold Stolen—Nurse Pearl E. Hallett of 911 No. 30 reported to police the theft of a billfold containing identification cards and $2 from a purse. The loss occurred, she said, in the cloak room at the hospital where she works.
Car Damaged—John D. Ward of Park Forrest, Ill., reported his car came out second best in an attempted theft while it was parked on P St. between 8th and 9th. Nothing was reported missing from the vehicle, but $5 damages resulted when the wind vent on the right side was broken.

BSP Chapter Plans Bazaar

At the recent meeting of Alpha Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, the members made plans to hold a benefit card party and bazaar.

Mrs. Carl Dietrich presided at the meeting and the program, "Personality and Relationship," was given by Mrs. Howard Fletcher. A talk, "Religion Related to Happiness," was presented by Mrs. Ross Lane.

At the conclusion of the evening, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Albert Pekar served refreshments.

THERE'S been considerable activity so far this month—and there's more to come—At least three large items still remain on the November calendar—each of them interesting—such as: one football game at Oklahoma—one football game in Hawaii—and Thanksgiving. Maybe it a good omen to have Thanksgiving celebrated between the two games—it may bring us luck for one or the other—or both—

MENTION of Thanksgiving reminds us that Mrs. Louise Kosman will be down from Omaha to spend the Thanksgiving week-end with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kosman, and their family.

AND while on the topic of guests we may as well pass on a few week-end echos that came our way this morning—

PTA Program

Heard, for instance, that Mr. The monthly board meeting of ELLIOTT PTA will be held at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Carleton Flynn, 205 So. 35th.

The annual Fall Festival of HOLMES PTA will be held Friday evening at the school. Following supper from 5:30 o'clock to 7:30 o'clock, a program of entertainment and games has been planned. A series of cartoon movies will be shown, and a variety of articles will be on sale in the booths.

The annual family fun night program of Lakeview PTA was held Friday evening at the school with more than 100 parents and faculty attending. The program of entertainment featured a variety of booths and games, and refreshments were served during the evening.

In charge of arrangements was Mrs. Art Kulla, PTA president.

Audubon Club To Hold Tour

A tour of Morrill Hall museum will be a feature of the regular meeting of the Audubon Naturalists Club at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. The members will meet in the auditorium, and the tour will be conducted by the museum director, Newell Joyner.

Entertains Plainview Club

The Plainview Extension Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Hunt with Mrs. Hunt's sister, Mrs. P. J. Plamondon, as a guest.

Following group singing, the members named Mrs. W. L. Thelander as news reporter for the club, and homes for club meetings during the year were selected. A bazaar highlighted the program. The club will use the proceeds for various projects.

The next meeting will be held in December at the home of Mrs. Gene Kolter, president, when the annual Christmas dinner will be featured.

Society Plans Annual Dinner

The members of the Hearing Society will meet at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the YMCA for their annual Thanksgiving dinner and party.

and Mrs. Neil Youmans of Scottsbluff were in town for the Friday-to-Monday period—the guests of Mrs. Youmans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Harris.

SOMEONE told us, too, that Mrs. Clinton Banks and her daughter, Kathy, were the week-end houseguests of Mrs. Banks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. McMillan.

THEN we heard that Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Merritt had had guests—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herbert of Rapid City, S. D., who were in town for the game week-end.

YESTERDAY was the day that Bennett Martin returned from New York, and we're guessing that he and Mrs. Martin (Pat Nellis) who arrived a week or two ago, will be devoting some time to house hunting now that they are to become permanent Lincoln residents.

UNDERSTAND there's a new permanent resident at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn—a son, Steven James, who arrived at Lincoln General hospital on Saturday, Nov. 6.

The young man's paternal grandmother is Mrs. P. C. Glenn—and his maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. McGrew.

A communique from Washington, D. C. tells us that Sen. Hazel Abel has been having quite a whirl since her arrival in the Nation's Capital—

Right after the "swearing-in" ceremony a week ago Monday, Mrs. Abel and her family—including the Mr. and Mrs. George Abel, Jr., and their son, John; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tallman, their son, Mark; Miss Alice Abel, all of Lincoln; Miss Helen Abel of San Diego and Miss Ann Abel of San Francisco, were entertained at luncheon by Victor John, executive director of the Republican Senate Campaign committee.

Weds In California

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE G. GALLISON JR.

The chancel of the First Presbyterian Church in Santa Maria, Calif., was appointed with spider chrysanthemums, in shades of white and chartreuse, for the wedding of Miss Donna Beth Pfeiffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Pfeiffer of Lincoln, and George Gocher Gallison, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gallison of Kingman, Ariz., which took place on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 7.

The Rev. L. Duane Woodfin read the lines of the double ring ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Miss Pat Boyd, organist. Miss Boyd also accompanied the vocal soloist, Orville Obermeyer.

Mrs. Ernest Antolini, as the matron of honor and only attendant, appeared in a frock of crystalline, in the lavender tone. Beneath the bare-shouldered, fitted bodice, covered with a shrug jacket, the wide skirt was ballerina length.

Allen Kemp of Santa Maria served Mr. Gallison as best man, and seating the guests were Stanley Gothier and Ernest Antolini.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of blue lace over matching net and taffeta. Designed in the princess mode with a bare-shouldered bodice and bouffant, walk-length skirt. She completed her costume with a brief-sleeved jacket of matching lace, bound at the portrait neckline with blue satin. Her calot was fashioned of white satin, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Following the reception, held in the Santa Maria Inn, Mr. Gallison and his bride left for a honeymoon trip for which Mrs. Gallison wore a tweed suit in the briarwood shade, with a Breton hat in the Hunter green tone.

Mrs. Gallison is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and is a member of the kindergarten faculty in the Santa Maria public schools.

Mr. Gallison attended schools in Arizona and California, and now is engaged in business in Santa Maria where the couple will reside.

Later in the day Sen. Abel was the guest of honor at a reception for which Assistant Secretary of Defense, Fred A. Seaton of Hastings, was host at Hotel Statler. Included in the guest list of 90 were many Nebraskans who are old friends of the Abel family.

On Monday evening Sen. Eva Bowring honored both Sen. Abel and Sen. Roman Hruska of Omaha at dinner at the Shoreham Hotel when she had as her guests, in addition to the members of the Abel family, Sen. and Mrs. Sam Reynolds, Mrs. Carl Curtis, wife of senator-elect Curtis who still was in Nebraska, ex-Gov. and Mrs. Val Peterson, Fred A. Seaton, and Mrs. Abel's administrative assistant, John Quinn of Lincoln.

Tuesday found all members of the Abel family in the Senate gallery to hear the new senator give her maiden speech in which she paid tribute to the late Sen. Hugh Butler.

Then, also on Tuesday, Mrs. Abel and her daughters were the guests of Mrs. Carl Curtis at a luncheon given by the District of Columbia Republican women in honor of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's birthday.

And that afternoon Sen. Abel was a guest at the British Embassy when Ambassador and Lady Makins gave a reception for Britain's Queen Mother.

Way Is Cleared For New Viaduct

... ORDINANCE PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL

The way has been cleared with City Council passage of an ordinance for construction of a new viaduct on West O from 3rd to 9th. The ordinance authorizes the state to proceed with construction using federal funds and approves the mayor entering into contracts with the state and railroads covering the construction. Mayor Clark Jeary stated he will sign the contracts after the ordinance is published, sometime the end of this week. The contracts make the city liable for damages, if any, to abutting property owners and give from the railroads to the state an easement over the tracks. The city and property owners have agreed that settlement of damages should come at a later date when more complete information is available. The existing viaduct was completed back in July of 1894. That old two lane structure will be replaced with a 64-foot wide roadway consisting of two double lanes separated by a fourfoot dividing strip. A contract on construction of the new viaduct is expected to be let by the state in December. Completion is expected to take from 10 to 15 months. Final plans may be completed this week on a detour route during construction. This route is being determined by the traffic division of the Police Department and the engineering department.

Additional Guard Unit Is Planned, Gen. Wood Says

ASHLAND, Neb. (AP)—An additional National Guard unit will be located soon in an as yet undesignated Nebraska city, Brig. Gen. Warren Wood, commander of the 34th Infantry Division, said. The Gering newspaper publisher said the unit would be an additional company for the 195th Tank Battalion. It will bring the state's total to 45 units in 30 cities.

Wood made the announcement at the conclusion of a two-day tactical training program at Camp Ashland, attended by members of Omaha's headquarters section of the staff of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard. After the tactical problem "armistice," the general and some of his staff made a flying cross-state trip to inspect units and armories at Hastings, Holdrege, Lexington, Broken Bow and Scottsbluff.

Hunt Mishap Kills Gooch Mill Sioux City Employee

SHELDON, Ia. (AP)—A Sioux City, Ia., salesman employed by the Gooch Milling Co. of Lincoln, Neb., was killed in a hunting mishap about seven miles northeast of here.

The salesman, Floyd C. Anderson, 23, was hunting with his brother, Amos, of Dunlap, Ia., and Eugene Sweum, Sioux City. O'Brien County Coroner J. A. Vander Ploeg said Anderson was walking ahead of the others when Sweum apparently stumbled and his shotgun discharged. Anderson was struck in the back of the head. Vander Ploeg held death was accidental and said no inquest would be held.

Myers Recovering After Losing Arm

BERTRAND, Neb. — Clarence (Bud) Myers of Bertrand is hospitalized in Lexington following the loss of his left arm in a corn picker accident. Myers, who was working alone on the Kermit Nutzman farm, apparently reached from the tractor seat to remove a stalk from the picker which ejected the stalks at the rear of the machine. Myers' call for help was answered by Herman Meyer, who lived near the scene. Myers was rushed to a Lexington hospital where his left arm was amputated just below the elbow.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

You never know what goes unless you read the books, man. And I have been reading about Success. I am now prepared to speak on it.

There was this immigrant boy. He thought he was applying for a job with the telephone company. But he got in the wrong office and wound up working for the New York World.

What makes it more complicated, the boy retrieved himself some years later and became the successful president of a large, successful corporation.

This is a Success story?

The Success story is full of such incidents. And it is high time we nudged it and let us see if it stands up.

Here is a boy already in the wrong office. He can't find his pistol pockets with both hands on a sunny day. But he is shot full of golden fortune.

I would like a record of this corporation president. While he was a copy boy for the New York World. I will bet you he was the boy who spilled the coffee. And always brought peanut butter when you ordered ham on rye.

I have lived around copy boys and will state that they often become successful. But rarely while they are copy boys.

While they are copy boys they read Proust and fritter away their pitiful wages in nearby saloons. They can run any paper better than the editor.

By and by, they become successful reporters. One day you read their byline on a story and say: "The business must be falling apart when they let a child handle that story."

Then you read it and it's good. This is extremely shocking.

I am for unsuccessful copy boys becoming corporation presidents. Before they become successful reporters and start writing better than their elders.

What I am really for is a return to Success as pictured by Horatio Alger.

The Alger heroes were poor but honest. They did not go around cluttering up the wrong office, believe me.

They stood around and shined shoes until the horse ran away with the banker's daughter. They shined up the cavalry and bring it to a halt.

"My boy, how can I reward you?" says the banker.

"It was nothing sir," says the brave lad modestly, a smile lighting up his honest countenance.

"And I perceive you have dropped your poke which is stuffed with $100 bills. I could easily put my foot on it. But instead let me hand it back to you."

The banker then takes him in and makes him vice president in charge of runaway tellers.

A foreign correspondent I knew told me he got his first job as a copy boy because he was a Phi Beta Kappa.

A Washington paper was having a hard time holding an uneducated but successful sports writer. They told him:

"Joe, how would you like to have an honest-to-goodness Phi Beta Kappa run coffee for you?"

The sports writer liked the idea fine. His schooling had been brief.

"He took me instead of a raise and he flayed me daily," said the correspondent. He'd say "Why you dumb so-and-so, didn't I tell you no cream and heavy on the sugar? A Phi Beta Kappa!"

The most successful copy boys I ever knew were copy girls. When the big war came along, girls answered the call of "Boy!"

With a line of these dollies sitting in full view of the rewrite bank, the first edition never did get out on time.

After awhile the war ended and the old crew came back. They weren't as pretty. But there was one consolation. A lot of them had been lieutenant colonels. Which is almost as good as a Phi Beta Kappa.

Tomato Output Key To State Canning Plant

Chief C. V. Price of the Nebraska Resources Division said Monday the possibility of obtaining a large canning factory for Nebraska "depends in great measure on whether or not Nebraska farmers are interested in raising large quantities of tomatoes."

The minimum needed, he explained, is 6,000 acres.

To sound out farmer attitude, five meetings have now been held. The meetings were at Kearney, Grand Island, Holdrege, Lexington and Minden.

Meetings are scheduled for Hastings and Edison.

The meetings so far have been encouraging, Price reported. But much misinformation has been circulated about the situation, he contended.

"This company is not trying to force its way into Nebraska. It has merely asked the resources division to submit various data which can be used to evaluate Nebraska's desirability as the site of a processing plant," Price declared.

"It is we, not the company involved, who are attempting to do a selling job. We are doing our best to convince the firm that Nebraska would be a good place to locate the plant."

"In fact, there is keen competition among several states for this food processing operation. It remains, however, that if we are fortunate enough to obtain such a plant it would go a long way toward further stabilizing our economic outlook over the long pull," he added.

The proposed plant would employ about 2,000 persons.

Pitt Game Said NU's Best; Up For Okies

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska played "its best game of the year" against Pittsburgh, despite a 21-7 loss, Coach Bill Glassford said Monday.

"Pitt was the best team we've played by far and we made the least number of mistakes, both offensively and defensively," Bill said after studying movies of the Panther clash.

Although a couple of pass interceptions hurt the Huskers, Bill said, the Panthers' second touchdown was set up by a tremendous one-hand steal that "would have been a Nebraska touchdown if it had been thrown six inches higher."

In explaining why he thought Pitt was tougher than Minnesota—although the Gophers swamped the Panthers—Glassford said Minnesota got the jump on Pitt with some long passes and just ran them to death.

Particularly pleasing to the Husker coach was the defensive work of the second unit, which hadn't shown much strength before the Pitt game, and the Nebraska pass defense.

"We were on our toes against their passes and they completed only two of 12, one on an interference call and the other with a spectacular catch."

Pitt's interior line play impressed Bill and the Panther ends were "the finest ends seen in a long while."

The entire Husker team and the officials ("the game was very well officiated") also got some praise from Glassford.

Obie Cited

"All our boys played a fine game," Bill said, citing Ron Clark, Don Glantz, Bob Oberlin and LaVerne Torczon for exceptional work. "Oberlin played his best game of the year," he added.

Turning his attention to Oklahoma—this week's foe—Glassford named Clark as the game captain and said that Scout Ray Prochaska reported the Oklahoma was a "typical Sooner team... big, tough and fast... and tremendously aggressive."

But Bill thought the Cornhuskers would be ready for the Sooners. "This is the big game for our boys, the end of the conference schedule, one they have been waiting for against one of the nation's top teams and I think they will be up for it."

Prochaska's scouting report indicated that he "liked all of the Sooners," but he cited Quarterbacks Gene Calame and Jim Harris, Center Bob Burris and End Max Boydston as outstanding performers.

Any thought of "coasting" over Oklahoma should be dispelled quickly by advance reports that the Sooners are "faster than Pitt, although not as big overall."

Oklahoma, on the basis of past games, will have a stronger offense than Pittsburgh, so the Huskers will be in for another hard session. And it is certain that they won't be favored.

Nebraska came out of the Pitt game with a "few bruises," but everyone should be ready for the Sooners, with the possible exception of Ends Jack Braley and Dean Lux.

Braley, who has been out of action three weeks with a chest infection, started working out Monday night and it won't be known until Wednesday whether or not he will be able to make the Oklahoma trip.

Lux injured an ankle against Kansas and may not be in shape this week.

The return of LeRoy Butherus, No. 2 end, will bolster that unit, which has had to operate with Jon McWilliams, a converted halfback.

Monday night the squad stuck to its usual limbering up session and Glassford said that the rough work will be at minimum this week to insure that the Cornhuskers will be at full strength Saturday.

Oklahoma's depth chart, with weights, includes:

Left ends—Carl Allison (187), Joe Mobra (201) and Tommy Pearson (195).
Right ends—Edman Gray (194), Tom Loughridge (182) and Bob Timberlake (188).
Left tackles—Bo Bolinger (200), Wayne Greenlee (191) and Milton Simmons (208).
Right tackles—Kurt Burris (207), Gene Mears (187) and Bobby Darrell (185).
Left guards—Cecil Norris (224), Ken Northcutt (193) and Robert Van Dee (199).
Right guards—Buddy Locke (182), Tommy McDonald (171) and Robert Derick (171).
Center—Max Boydston (200), John Bell (181) and Duane Goff (186).
Halfbacks—Bobby Burris (183) and Delbert Loeke (183).
Fullbacks—Jerry Tubbs (188), Billy Prier (185) and Wray Littlejohn (177).

—Loup City Second— Geneva, Despite Loss, Tops In C

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Geneva High's quick and relentless Wildcats become kings of the prep Class C football game today.

Coach Ken Ackermann's team from Fillmore County won seven out of eight games, five of their victories coming against Class B teams, and the only loss was inflicted by Crete, also of Class B.

It was the second straight successful season for the Wildcats. Last fall they won nine in a row and finished second in the final Class C ratings.

A 13-7 victor over Hebron, a fine Class B squad, stands as the big night for the Wildcats. The 7-0 loss to Crete looked bad at the time, but Crete later pushed a capable Beatrice team which ranked well among the Class A schools.

Defense Outstanding

Defense was the outstanding quality of Geneva. The Cats allowed only 26 points. Their offense was founded on efficient blocking, a dangerous passing game and the running of three able backs.

Second place is Loup City's but surprising Weeping Water and consistently strong Oakland were in contention all the way.

Loup City fell only at Ord and the 13-12 loss to the Chanticleers is an asset to the Red Raiders. Ord was among the best in the amazingly balanced Class B field.

Joe Simanek again coached Loup City.

Only One Loss

Darwin Salestrom brought Weeping Water through a 10-game season with only one loss, 14-0 to Lincoln Cathedral of Class B. The team was one of the best Class C schools in southeast Nebraska in recent years.

Coach Kenny Fischer's Oakland squad lost an early game to undefeated Tekamah of Class B, then rolled across seven northeast-state foes and closed on a high 32-0 victory over Stanton in the Husker Conference playoff.

The 1954 champion, Grant High, won seven straight before strong Ogallala of Class B clipped the Perkins County team.

The champions slipped against unrated Oskosh the next week and today are listed in fifth place. E. J. Haefner again coached Grant.

Hastings St. Cecilia takes sixth with a 6-1-1 mark. Columbus St. Bonaventure beat Coach James Biglin's squad by six points and able Hebron could only tie the Hawks. The team tied Guide Rock.

The Star's Top Ten

1. Geneva (7-1)	6. Hastings St. Cecilia (7-1-1)
2. Loup City (8-1)	7. Callaway (3-0)
3. Weeping Water (8-1)	8. Guide Rock (8-0)
4. Oakland (9-1)	9. Ponca (7-0)
5. Grant (7-2)	10. Rushville (5-2-1)

for the Southern Eight Conference title.

Callaway won eight straight games under Coach Dean Webb and dominated Class C ball in the center of the state.

Proposals To Shift Clubs Are Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said Monday that proposals to shift Denver or Omaha, or both, from the Class A Western League to the Triple-A American Assn. are under consideration.

Johnson, governor-elect of Colorado and president of the Western League, said as he understands it, the American Assn. hasn't decided which team it wants or whether it will try to get both.

Ed Doherty, American Assn. president, said his league has filed intentions to negotiate for a Western League city.

Johnson said fans in both Denver and Omaha are anxious to move into the higher league. He would not venture a guess as to the outcome.

Under baseball rules, a higher-ranking league may draft a city from a lower-ranking league. If owners of the lower league disapprove, the issue would go to arbitration which would be binding on both leagues.

GOLIATH

John Pesek Meets Giant Goliath-Talun

A grudge match between Nebraska's favorite wrestler and the tallest man in the mat game today features tonight's Fairground arena wrestling program — a birthday celebration for promoter Adam Krieger.

"Tiger John" Pesek of Ravenna will come out of semi-retirement to tangle with 7-foot 2-inch "Goliath" who formerly wrestled under the name "Sing Sing Talun." The program starts at 8:30 p.m.

Talun suffered a broken leg wrestling Pesek in Omaha, and went into temporary retirement from wrestling. He appeared as Goliath in the movie "David and Bathsheba" and adopted his movie name for use on his return to the ring.

Talun is out to "get" Pesek for breaking his leg, so tonight's match promises to be a barn-burner.

But the Ravenna Tiger says this about himself and Goliath: "Like the David of old, I will take care of him with a sling and a stone, and a toe-hold of my own."

Sharing the card are Lincoln's Howard Pierce, Steve McGill and two Duseks.

Pierce, the local strongboy, will tangle with Dick Dusek of Omaha. Emil Dusek, Dick's uncle, meets McGill.

Paul Sendar, chairman of the Illinois Racing Commission, races thoroughbreds under the name of Locust Farm Stable.

Owner Johnson Says Entire Staff To Be Announced Soon

Carroll To Manage Athletics

(AP Wirephoto.)

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Parke Carroll, a veteran operator in the New York Yankee baseball system, Monday was named vice president and business manager of the new Kansas City Athletics of the American League.

Naming of Carroll was the first official act dealing with personnel by Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman, who purchased the Athletics from the Connie Mack family last week.

Carroll, general manager of the old Kansas City Blues of the American Assn. since 1951 and a top Yankee farm hand since 1945, was signed to a three-year contract at his own terms. The salary was not divulged.

Complete Staff Soon

Johnson, who will serve as president of the club, said he hopes to complete his staff "within the next few days."

Important posts yet to be filled are those of field manager, personnel manager and farm club director.

Most prominently mentioned in connection with the field manager job is Lou Boudreau, recently let out as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Johnson said the personnel manager, who'll carry the title as director of personnel, will have charge of signing contracts and making player deals. Carroll, among others, also will sit in on deals involving the shifting of player personnel.

Mack Vice President

Johnson said that Roy Mack, executive vice president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Athletics up to time of their sale, will serve as a vice president but that his duties have not been definitely determined.

Roy Mack will, however, be in charge of the Kansas City A's spring training camp. Johnson said that Roy did not plan to move here.

Connie Mack Jr. will come to Kansas City in an official capacity with the club, but Johnson said his exact duties have not been decided.

Connie Mack, who founded the Athletics in Philadelphia more than 50 years ago, was named "honorary" chairman of the board of the Kansas City club.

As in the case of the Philadelphia Athletics there'll be no "general" manager by that name here, at least the first year. Carroll's job will be similar to that of Roy Mack a year ago. He'll primarily be engaged in handling the business end of the club.

"We are faced with many big problems at the moment," Johnson said at a press conference. "We hope to have a field manager named by Wednesday or Thursday at the latest. Then we have to do a full year's job of enlarging the stadium in six months time."

Meantime, the Blues front-office equipment remained packed and read for shipment as soon as a new home is found for the American Assn. franchise.

Johnson said that Roy Mack, executive vice president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Athletics up to time of their sale, will serve as a vice president but that his duties have not been definitely determined.

Roy Mack will, however, be in charge of the Kansas City A's spring training camp. Johnson said that Roy did not plan to move here.

Connie Mack Jr. will come to Kansas City in an official capacity with the club, but Johnson said his exact duties have not been decided.

Connie Mack, who founded the Athletics in Philadelphia more than 50 years ago, was named "honorary" chairman of the board of the Kansas City club.

As in the case of the Philadelphia Athletics there'll be no "general" manager by that name here, at least the first year. Carroll's job will be similar to that of Roy Mack a year ago. He'll primarily be engaged in handling the business end of the club.

"We are faced with many big problems at the moment," Johnson said at a press conference. "We hope to have a field manager named by Wednesday or Thursday at the latest. Then we have to do a full year's job of enlarging the stadium in six months time."

Meantime, the Blues front-office equipment remained packed and read for shipment as soon as a new home is found for the American Assn. franchise.

In Washington, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), president of the Western League, said directors of his league have been contacted about proposals to shift Omaha or Denver, or both, to the triple-A association.

Markets, Consumption Vital—Marshall

Development of foreign markets and encouragement of more and greater domestic consumption was described as more important to a healthy agriculture than any price support program by Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation Monday.

Marshall keynoted the 1954 state meeting of the Farm Bureau at the Lincoln Hotel, speaking to a 350 vanguard of an expected 600 delegates.

Elections, Resolutions
Pre-convention activities began Sunday but the main sessions opened Monday and will continue through Wednesday night. They will be highlighted by the annual bureau state elections and adoption of resolutions that will define the Bureau's policies for the coming year.

Heavy opening day registrations indicated a greater than usual convention attendance.

While the Bureau was in session, its auxiliary, the Associated Women of the NFBF, held companion sessions.

Temporary Measures
Marshall said he was not advocating the elimination of price support programs, but asserted "We should realize that such laws protect agriculture and support prices temporarily to give time to work out real solutions to the marketing problems of farm commodities."

Marshall described the Agriculture Trade Development Act of 1954 as the first constructive effort to use surplus U.S. farm commodities in foreign trade. Farm Bureau members can be proud that their organization first advocated such a policy to Congress more than three years ago.

"We have only scratched the surface in finding markets for U.S. farm commodities abroad," Marshall said. "If we are ready to put our shoulders and minds to the job of finding solutions to this problem, we will develop completely new markets."

He suggested the possibility of farm organizations or other non-profit groups setting up pilot operations, bartering directly with other nations.

Cambridge Chamber To Entertain Farmers

CAMBRIDGE, Neb.—Dr. Mark Weldon, soils specialist at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, will be guest speaker at the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce Farmers Night dinner to be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

He will discuss soil testing and fertilizers and show a film related to his subject.

Freeman Tax Meet Speaker

Roger A. Freeman, special assistant to Gov. Arthur B. Lange of Washington, will be guest speaker at the fourth annual tax conference to be held here Tuesday, Nov. 30, under the sponsorship of the Nebraska Citizens Council.

Freeman will discuss the work of the President's Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, Robert M. Armstrong, executive director of the council, announced.

Freeman has just completed his work directing a study of education for the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. He will discuss education problems including federal aid to education and state aid to local school districts.

Governor-elect Victor E. Anderson will speak at the morning session of the conference.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a panel discussion of public schools in Nebraska, Armstrong said, in keeping with the "education" theme of the conference. The panel will discuss needs, organization and financing of schools.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. "Reg. U.S. Pat. Off."

...Egypt Quiet After Ouster

CAIRO (INS)—An official Egyptian spokesman directly accused ousted President-Gen. Mohammed Naguib Monday of allowing himself to become "a trump card to be used by Communists and the Moslem Brotherhood" in a power seizure attempt.

The spokesman for the revolutionary command council said Naguib had "a lust for power" and was part of a Communist and Brotherhood "devilish" attempt "to exploit and invoke a popular response" to overthrow Premier Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The statement described the recent attempt to assassinate Nasser as "a preliminary to Naguib's restoration to power and prestige through a bloody conflict that was to follow."

"So far was he ready to go," said the statement "and so unscrupulously was he ready to maneuver!

Used As Tool

"What he failed to know was that the subversive forces were only using him as a tool and when the struggle had ended he would be cast away."

Naguib, ostensibly ousted to cause a witness in the present trial of Brotherhood members accused him in the Nasser slaying attempt, was named again in testimony Monday as being implicated in the Moslem plot.

The government statement against Naguib possibly foreshadows a treason trial. A spokesman earlier had said he would be put on trial if enough evidence was found.

Guards Doubled

Egyptians reacted quietly to the ousting of Naguib and his house arrest, but guards were doubled at key Cairo buildings.

The people's court, a panel of three junta officers trying Moslem Brotherhood members accused in the attempt on Nasser's life last month, resumed the trial of Mahmoud Abdel Latif, a key trigger man in the assassination plot. A military high court also began trying 44 Communists charged with seditious propaganda work and anti-government plotting.

Aly Naguib, a brother of the ousted president and Egyptian ambassador to Syria, was also removed from his post.

This Is Muscular Dystrophy Month

Gov. Robert Crosby Monday designated November as "muscular dystrophy month."

He noted that the muscle-wasting disease now has more than 200,000 victims in the United States alone. The majority afflicted are children from three to 13 years of age.

"Hope exists for the first time for these unfortunate victims through the work of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., which seeks the cause and cure for this disease through medical research," the governor said.

He urged full support of the effort to aid muscular dystrophy sufferers.

Johnny Mercer Given $200 Or 40 Days In Jail

DOWNEY, Calif. (INS)—Song-writer Johnny Mercer was sentenced to a $200 fine or 40 days in jail for drunk driving Monday by a municipal judge who didn't think his plea for leniency was a hit.

Mercer pleaded guilty to the charge before Downey Judge Alfred Daniel Boone. The composer didn't have the $200 with him, so the judge gave him 24 hours in which to raise it.

The charge arose from a three-car collision in Downey last Sept. 23. No one was hurt.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ervin (D-NC) Monday introduced a new term into the McCarthy censure debate.

He said McCarthy was charged with being "guilty of disorderly conduct by flyblowing—that is a strong Anglo-Saxon word, but a very expressive one."

An aide explained that "flyblowing" was a word often used in the South, and that it means "to smear."

The dictionary definition sounds even worse. It says a flyblow is an egg or larvae deposited by a blowfly. A blowfly is any of various species of flies that deposit their eggs or maggots on food or in wounds of living creatures.

Hence, the dictionary says, the verb flyblow means to infect, taint or contaminate as if with flyblows.

$17,443 Injury Suit Filed By Molzer

Ben Molzer of Hallam has filed a $17,443.21 suit in Lancaster District Court for injuries allegedly sustained in an accident Sept. 7.

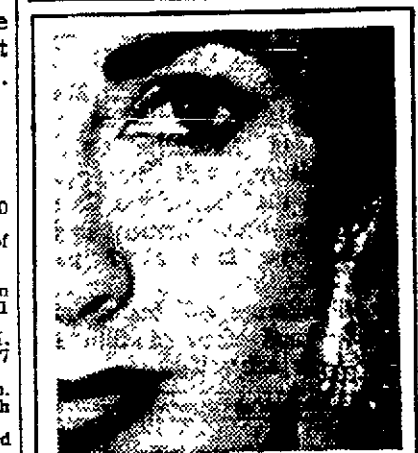

Nichols Construction Co., of Geneva, is named as defendant.

The petition claims that the pickup truck Molzer was driving ran into an unguarded creek bed after the construction firm removed a bridge four miles north and a mile west of Hallam.

Molzer alleges the defendant company failed to place flares, signs, barricades or other warning after the bridge was removed.

The Geneva firm was working on the bridge under a Lancaster County contract.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Let's calibrate the Russian word for peaceful manifestation of the freedom of speech they call the atom.

This fruit of the cyclotron orchard of murderous intelligibles is as deadly as hollow-toothed venom. Mr. Dulles has been asking Moscow to set up a control posse for handling the grain of extinction.

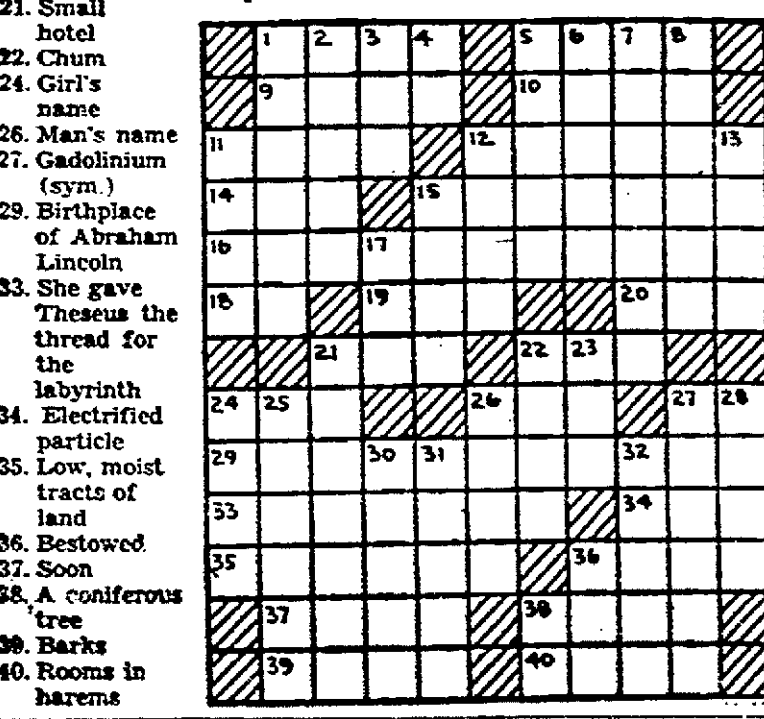

Moscow replies with a counter-plan that doesn't translate.

Eden Urges West Spurn Soviet Bid

'Wait Until Germans Armed For Conference'

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden urged the West Monday to ignore Russian overtures for a European security conference until after a rearmament West Germany takes her place in the Western defense lineup.

After that diplomatic goal has been reached, Eden told the House of Commons, the situation of the Western Powers "would not exclude the possibility of further discussions" with Russia.

Eden told the House of Commons, the situation of the Western Powers "would not exclude the possibility of further discussions" with Russia.

The Foreign Secretary said the West must not be thrown off its course toward ratification of the Paris accords by Moscow's proposal Saturday for a 24-nation conference Nov. 29 in Moscow or Paris on "the creation of a system of collective security in Europe."

Clement Attlee, leader of the Laborite opposition, agreed that ratification should go forward.

Adenauer View Similar

In Bonn, a similar view was expressed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party (CDU). Describing the Soviet bid as "nothing more than an effort to disturb Western plans," the party said acceptance now would be a decisive mistake.

"No one will reject such a conference if it is held at the proper time," the party said in a statement. "But without the necessary preparations such a conference could only lead to failure."

The West German Socialists, however, criticized the Western Powers for what they called a lack of initiative and said: "The Soviet Union is trying to maneuver the West into a corner. The only practical answer to the latest Soviet proposal is to accept it."

Eden told the Commons Moscow's note is "openly and explicitly directed against ratification" of the plan to rearm the West Germans.

Haymes Can Remain Until Courts Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government decided Monday to make no move toward deporting Rita Hayworth's husband, actor-singer Dick Haymes, until the courts have passed on his case.

How long it might take to get a full court review was indefinite but it seemed likely that Haymes, born in Argentina, could stay in this country for months, at least.

Haymes' lawyers were to have argued in U.S. District Court Monday for an injunction against deportation but Asst. U.S. Atty. Frank Strickler told Judge Alexander Holtzoff this wouldn't be necessary.

Strickler said the government "will not take into custody or attempt to deport Haymes until the case has been heard." With that, Haymes' lawyer, Welburn Mayock, withdrew his request for an injunction.

The 36-year-old Haymes' immediate troubles grew out of a trip he made to Hawaii in 1953 in his courtship of the beautiful Miss Hayworth.
